

28th Annual

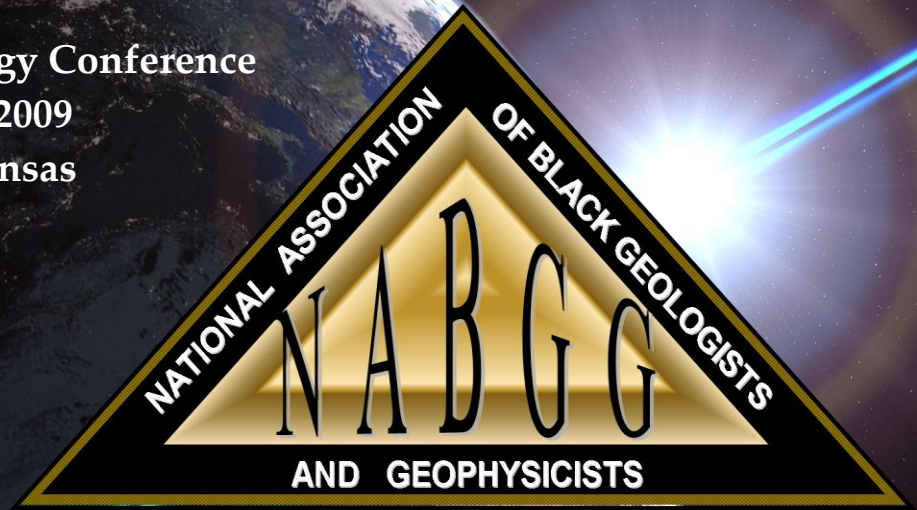

NABGG Technology Conference

September 9 – 12, 2009

University of Arkansas

Fayetteville, AR

www.nabgg.org

The NABGG Is Pleased to Announce the 2009 Scholarship Awards Keynote Luncheon Speaker –

Dr. P. Patrick Leahy

Executive Director, American Geological Institute

The Honorable, Dr. P. Patrick Leahy, Executive Director, American Geological Institute will give the keynote address at the NABGG (National Association of Black Geologists and Geophysicists) 2009 Scholarship Awards Luncheon that will be held on September 10, 2009, 12 PM (Noon) at the Inn at Carnall Hall– Fayetteville, Arkansas.

Dr. P. Patrick Leahy is the current Executive Director of the American Geological Institute. Dr. Leahy is the former Director for Geology of the U.S. Geological Survey. In his previous role he had responsibility for Federal basic earth science programs, which included worldwide earthquake hazards monitoring and research, geologic mapping of land and seafloor resources, volcano and landslide hazards, and assessments of energy and mineral resources. He was also responsible for all international activities conducted by the U.S. Geological Survey. Dr. Leahy served as USGS Acting Director and the Chair of the Interagency Civil Applications Committee from June 2005 to October 2006.

The American Geological Institute, founded in 1948, is a nonprofit federation of 44 scientific and professional associations that represent more than 120,000 geologists, geophysicists, and other earth scientists.

Robert J. Johnson, PG
President, NABGG
johnson@paradigmgeo.com

Jo Ann Kvamme
Chairperson, NABGG 2009 Technology Conference
jkvamme@uark.edu